125 years of Miele: Attractive promotional models in anniversary year

- ▶ 125 Edition: Price discounts on top-specced models
- ▶ 125 Gala Edition: 125-week extended warranty on top
- ▶ Built-in kitchen appliances in matt black design

Gütersloh/Milan, April 16, 2024. – An enduring pledge – The Miele family company has stood for quality and sustainability since 1899. The premium manufacturer is now celebrating its birthday with a wealth of attractive promotional models across all product groups as well as a free 125-week extended warranty. This applies to all 125 Gala Edition models which include built-in kitchen appliances in a new obsidian black matt design.

Miele will celebrate its 125th. birthday together with its customers by launching more than 80 anniversary models across all product groups – in two different promotional ranges. The 125 Edition comprises models with attractive feature sets either at a discount and/or with free accessories. The benefits of dishwashers from this edition include for example a price discount of € 50* as well as an additional voucher for a care set. All models are also connectivity-enabled and feature the patented AutoDos with PowerDisk dispensing system. A further example are the promotional oven models: They feature the AirFry operating mode and include the perforated Gourmet baking and AirFry tray as well as a voucher for a grilling and roasting insert as a free accessory.

The anniversary models from the 125 Gala Edition also offer considerable benefits in terms of features and accessories. One highlight is the WCI 890 WPS 125 Gala Edition washing machine at a price of € 1,679. It has a maximum load capacity of 9 kg, a spin speed of 1600 rpm and the top A energy efficiency class. Furthermore, this model features the TwinDos liquid dispensing system and highly efficient PowerWash technology. SteamCare is an extra on top: This function is ideal for smoothing and freshening up laundry items to rid them of odours and was previously the preserve of flagship models.

More than 4 years of guarantee coverage in Germany

Across all products, an exclusive 125-week extended warranty applies to all 125 Gala Edition models. This applies in addition to the statutory 2-year guarantee. Hence, in total, guarantee cover on these anniversary models amounts to the 2-year guarantee plus an additional 125 weeks. This is on the condition that the extension is activated via the Miele app during the promotional period.

In the built-in kitchen appliance sector, the promotion includes ArtLine models in a noble obsidian black matt, first introduced last year. The portfolio comprises ovens, combination steam ovens (for 45 cm and 60 cm niches) and compact microwave combination ovens which sport full flush glass fronts with integrated displays. In line with the design of the new built-in appliances, Miele is now to present induction hobs with a new matt ceramic glass surface. These models are further complemented by built-in coffee machines, hob units, a warmer and vacuum drawers, a cooker hood, a wine unit as well as front panels for dishwashers with Knock2open technology – all handleless versions from the current Miele range. Optional extended warranty bringing guarantee cover to a total of 125 months

The anniversary campaign illustrates that Miele is focussing in its 125th. year of existence on quality and sustainability like no other company in its branch of industry. This is the background to a very special offer from Miele Service: Alongside the free extended warranty for 125 Gala Edition models, Miele is also set to upgrade its existing optional extended warranty. Customers opting for a total of 10-year extended warranty will be given an additional five months of cover free of charge. This extends total insurance against repair costs to 125 months. In Germany, this offer covering domestic appliances has been valid since January 2024 and is due to end in September 2025. Further information is provided by Press release No. 044/2024.
